OVER SCORES

11 Deaths In Terrible Accident Near Providence

FORTY OTHERS WERE HURT

Motorman, Unused to the Track, Let the Car Coast Down a Long Grade and Onto a Sharp Curve.

Providence, R. I., June 4.—Eleven persons are dead, a score seriously and another score slightly injured as the result of the overturning of a crowded electric car at Moore's corner in East Providence early Sunday morning. More than 100 young men and women who had been passing the evening at Crescent Park, a pleasure resort on the Providence river, six miles below this city, were on a chartered car, returning to their homes here, in Olneyville and Thornton. It is believed that two of the injured will die.

The dead: George Atcherson, 20 years, Thornton. Edward F. Brennan, 18 years, Cranston, R. I.

Alive Franklin, 17 years, Thornton. Enrico Gamboni, 23 years, Thornton. John Gavin, 20 years, Providence. Angelo German, 30 years, Thornton. Gustav Guertin, 23 years, Olneyville. Wm. W. Luther, 27 years, Providence. Bertha M. Kelley, 18 years, Thornton.

John Schneider, 19 years, Olneyville. Ethel Whitely, 19 years, Providence. The seriously wounded are: Annie Wilkinson, Victoria Mount, fracture at base of skull; will probably die.

Mrs. Myra Wilson, 9 Walnut street, Thornton, head and hips crushed; internal injuries; may die.

Frank Douglas, 14 Dudley street, Providence; shoulder fractured and left leg lacerated.

James Saunders, 1 Bowditch place, Providence; contusions of knees and left hip.

Joseph J. McQuade, conductor of the wrecked car, 191 Plainfield street, Providence; scalp wound and slight internal injuries.

Pasquale Di Sabato, 216 Atwell avenue, Providence; scalp wound and contusions of left thigh.

Stella Lamothe, 35 Capron street, Providence; fracture of right elbow and contusion on face.

Pasquale Arlio, 9 Silver Lake avenue, Providence; scalp wound and contusions.

Lillian Weeks, Thornton; severe cut over right eye.

Thomas Kelley, 26 Putnam street, Providence; serious injuries to head and body.

Camille Turcotte, 297 Wickenden street, Providence; contusions of back and pelvis.

The wreck occurred on the suburban line of the Rhode Island company, a corporation that controls practically all the street railway lines in the state.

The motorman in charge of the car, V. J. Lancher of Olneyville, was unfamiliar with the road, over which he was traveling for the first time. Lancher was put in charge of the car at the solicitation of its passengers, members of a Catholic society which had been to Crescent Park for an outing.

The car, an open one of heavy build, was crowded with young men and women. The members of the party were singing gaily as the car sped along towards Moore's corner, where Warren and Pawtucket avenues cross. This corner is midway between Providence and Riverside, and is about six miles distant from the city.

At the corner the track curves sharply at the foot of a long but not particularly heavy grade. Fog prevented a clear view of the road ahead and an electric arc lamp at the corner is said to have been hardly visible at one o'clock Sunday morning, the hour at which the accident happened. The motorman, unable to see far in front of the car, and unaware of the sharp curve below, allowed the car to coast rapidly down the hill.

The first intimation of an accident was when the motorman felt the car swinging into the curve. Realizing the peril, he applied the brakes and reversed the power.

The weight of a number of men on the running board and the momentum sufficed to derail the great car and throw it into the road 20 feet from the track, where it fell on its side between a tree and a guide post.

Seven of the passengers were pinned beneath the car and instantly killed. The shrieks and groans of other passengers gave evidence of terrible injuries. Immediately those who escaped with little or no injury began the work of rescue. Within a few moments a large pile of stones from a nearby yard was utilized as a lever, a pile of stones forming a fulcrum, and the car was raised from the ground just enough to permit the escape of the imprisoned passengers.

Two persons had succeeded in escaping when the jolt broke over the weight of the car and the heavy vehicle fell back to the ground, pinning two passengers beneath its weight and killing them instantly.

The rescuers again raised the car from the ground and by building a pile of heavy stones kept it in position while the dead and injured were removed from beneath it.

Motorman Lancher was not arrested. The police authorities said that he was not guilty of negligence in his opinion, inasmuch as he was unfamiliar with the line and did not know of the curve. The car was in charge of Conductor Joseph McQuade, who received serious injuries.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Ballooning Was Precipitated From Great Height.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 4.—While making a trial flight with his airship at an amusement resort, Lincoln Beachey of San Francisco yesterday narrowly escaped death by the collapsing of the frame work of the car. The airship was 300 feet in the air when the accident occurred and the daring young navigator was saved from being dashed to the ground only by the narrowest margin. He managed to guide the airship until it was but fifty feet above the ground and although it fell that distance he escaped uninjured except for a few bruises. The airship was partly wrecked.

Everything was running smoothly when the two bamboo poles at the center of the car near the engine snapped in two. This caused the entire frame work to double up like a knife. The rapidly revolving propeller was hurled into the forward end of the big balloon cutting a big opening in it. The escaping gas caused the car to sway to and fro and it was with difficulty that Beachey remained in the cage.

The car started to drop slowly and the rudder being useless it was blown over the park in the opposite direction from which it was headed. The hydrogen gas which filled the balloon poured down upon Beachey nearly smothering him. Fortunately the gas escaped slowly and there was enough of the balloon to support the car until it was well into 50 feet of the ground. The descent had been gradual but owing to the swaying of the car and the fumes of gas, Beachey was in constant danger of death.

SEN. GORMAN
DIED TODAY

Was One of Leading Democrats in Congress

WAS 67 YEARS OF AGE

Began as a Senate Page and Worked Up to a High Position—His Term Would Have Expired in 1909.

Washington, D. C., June 4.—United States Senator Gorman of Maryland died this morning.

The senator was stricken with another heart attack at nine o'clock this morning. The attack was similar to the one he suffered a week ago. Dr. Brown was summoned, but the senator expired before relief could be administered. Gorman was conscious when stricken with the last attack and had taken some nourishment an hour before. His condition had improved for a week and yesterday plans were made to remove him to his country home at Laurel, Maryland, this week. The senator had not been out of his house since January 16.

He paid $5,000,000 for the collection. His ailment was diagnosed as stomach trouble, with heart complications.

Arthur P. Gorman was born in Howard county, Maryland, March 11, 1839. He attended the public school in his native county for a brief period. In 1852 he was appointed a page in the United States Senate. He remained in the service of the Senate for fourteen years. In 1866 he was removed from the position of postmaster and immediately appointed collector of internal revenue for the fifth district of Maryland. This office he held until the coming of the Grant administration in 1869. In November of that year he was elected a member of the house of delegates of the Maryland legislature. He was re-elected in 1871 and became speaker of the house of delegates in the succeeding term. His further service in the Maryland legislature was continued by an election to the senate to represent Howard county, and was re-elected. In 1872 he was chosen president of the Chesapeake and Old Dominion canal company.

His first service with the national legislature came in 1880 with his election to the United States Senate as a Democrat to succeed William Pinckney Wythe. He took his seat on March 4, 1881. He was re-elected in 1886 and in 1892. Ten years later he was again elected, this time to succeed George J. Wellington, a Republican. His term of service was to have expired March 3, 1900. Senator Gorman was recognized as one of the most capable members of the body and was affectionately called the leader of the Democracy in the Senate. His committee appointments in the Senate were on Appropriations, District of Columbia, finance, interstate canals, irrigation, library and printing.

SUSPECT MORALES DIED
BY HIS OWN HAND

He Is Believed to Have Thrown Bomb at King Alfonso and Queen Victoria in Madrid Last Week.

Madrid, June 4.—The body of Manuel Morales (he would-be assassin of King Alfonso, who killed himself to escape capture, was buried here today after an autopsy had been held. Numerous compromising documents have been found in the room occupied by Morales at Barcelona. The police now believe there was a widespread international plot against Alfonso.

Madrid, June 4.—The capture and suicide Saturday night at Torrejon de Ardoz of Manuel Morales, the chief suspect in the bomb outrage against King Alfonso and Queen Victoria, adds another dramatic chapter to the incidents surrounding the royal wedding. Morales as recognized in the little town of Torrejon de Ardoz, midway between Madrid and Aledo. A guard sought to detain him, but Morales, drawing a revolver, shot the guard dead. Then he turned to flee and turning the revolver upon himself, he sent a shot in the region of his heart, expiring a few minutes later. Senor Cuesta, proprietor of the hotel from the balcony of which Morales threw the bomb, viewed the body yesterday morning and completely identified it as that of his recent guest.

It was eight o'clock Saturday evening when Morales, disguised in the garb of a workman, entered the station at Torrejon de Ardoz. He asked a child who was in charge of the office the time the next train would depart for Barcelona. He then sought food in a nearby shop. His Catalan accent at first attracted attention to him. It was then noticed that this workman's suit was entirely new and did not correspond in texture to that usually worn by a person of his station in life, his face and manner showing him to be a man of some distinction. A private watchman from a neighboring estate chanced to be present. He noticed the facial resemblance of Morales to the descriptions given of the man seen on the balcony from which the bomb was thrown.

He then observed that a finger on the man's left hand which the stranger was trying to conceal was badly hurt, and also that there was a small fresh scar on his forehead. The stranger sought to take a road leading into the country, but the watchman intercepted him and demanded to know his identity. Morales declined to give this, whereupon a guard arrested him. Instantly Morales drew a revolver from his pocket and fired, the guard falling dead. Morales started up the road, but a small group of villagers ahead barred his passage. Then, turning, he deliberately pointed the weapon to his head, fired and pitched forward in the roadway.

DEFEATED NORTHFIELD.

Rangers Put Up a Great Game Saturday, Winning 5 to 1.

The Barre Rangers went to Northfield Saturday afternoon and played one of their best games, defeating Northfield by the decisive score of 5 to 1. The game was not long started before the Rangers had scored two goals, the first by Dugdale and the second by Brew. At the end of the first half the score stood 2 to 0 in favor of the Rangers. In the second period the Rangers took things pretty easy, but they put through two more goals. One was scored by Thompson after a very fine run. Getting the ball near the middle line he ran down and scored a goal.

As the Northfields have not been playing this season, they were somewhat handicapped. They will put up a better game next time. On Saturday the first game in the Vermont league will be played between the Rangers and the Green Mountains on the Berlin street grounds. As it will be a great game, there should be a big crowd present.

Lafrance Didn't Allow a Hit.

Northfield, June 4.—The Northfield high school defeated the Whitehall high school here Saturday morning on the Northfield parade by a score of 3 to 0 in a good clean game of ball. Both teams put up a fine exhibition of base ball from the start. It was a pitcher's battle up to the eighth, when Young went to pieces and the home team scored three runs. Lafrance put up a fine game in the ninth, striking out the visitors without a hit, and struck out ten men.

Score by innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Northfield H. S. 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 4

SAW SON IN DEATH CELL.

Charles L. Tucker Was the Cheerful One of Conference.

Boston, June 4.—Charles L. Tucker's father and mother paid their first visit to the condemned youth at the state prison yesterday forenoon, and for half an hour they leaned over the iron pipe rail, talking with their son. For the first time since he has been away from home under the accusation of murder the mother was unable to press her boy's hand and kiss him.

When she entered the cell room with its artificial light and saw her son behind the bars of the last of the three grated apartments, clad in the dull, gray uniform of the state prison, Mrs. Tucker burst into tears. Tucker, although affected by the grief of his mother, bade her be cheerful, for he told her she must look forward with hope to the commutation of his sentence by the governor, which seemed near at hand from that part of the prison.

The prisoner was by far the most light-hearted of the three.

DRANK HORSE MEDICINE

Orrice Ballard, Prominent Vermont, a Suicide

HE HAD ACTED QUEERLY

First Threatened to Shoot Himself, but the Revolver Was Taken Away from Him by His Daughter.

St. Albans, June 4.—Orrice Ballard, 57 years old, one of the best known residents of Georgia, committed suicide shortly after seven o'clock Sunday morning by drinking a quantity of horse medicine, the principal ingredient of which was carbolic acid. Mr. Ballard died within 15 minutes after he had taken the poison. He is believed to have been temporarily insane when he committed the deed. For the past few days he has been acting queerly and on Saturday he was especially so.

During the afternoon he disappeared suddenly from his home and was found asleep in the woods near his place by a searching party at nine o'clock Saturday night. He walked back to his house and was put to bed, passing a restless night. Sunday morning he arose about seven and a few minutes after appeared in the family living room with a loaded revolver in his hand.

His daughter, Mrs. Ira Perry, asked him what he was going to do, and he answered, "Shoot myself." She persuaded him to give her the revolver, and he then went out to the barn, got the bottle containing the poison and when found was just taking his third swallow. He was helped back to the house and was dead before the medical assistance which had been summoned could reach him.

Orrice Ballard was the youngest child of a large family, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orrice Ballard, and was born in Georgia, January 13, 1849. He was educated in the common schools and Georgia academy and was a farmer by occupation. He was actively interested in politics and was a staunch Republican. He had served his native town in various offices as liter, school director and selectman and was elected to the House of Representatives in 1894 and 1898 and represented Franklin county in the Senate in 1900. He served as a trustee of the state hospital for the insane at Waterbury for several years, and at his death was one of the trustees of the St. Albans hospital.

Mr. Ballard is survived by a wife, a daughter, Mrs. Ira Perry, and a brother, Joseph Ballard, all of Georgia. A private service for the family will be held from the house at one o'clock and the funeral will be held from the church at Georgia Plains at two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

His carriage was overturned and he and lady thrown out and quite badly bruised and shaken up, but were able to go home without medical assistance. A wheel was torn off Mr. Chapin's carriage and he was obliged to get another to take his family home.

The commissioners recently refused to grant a second class license to W. E. Huley. It is now thought that the town will be dry.

EXCITING MOMENT OR SO
FOR THREE AUTOMOBILISTS

But "Dick" Hoar's Dextrous Twist of the Steering Gear Prevented a Tip-Over, With Possibly Serious Consequences.

Richard A. Hoar took two "tenderfeet" out for an automobile ride Saturday afternoon, and if they were used roughly it wasn't Mr. Hoar's fault. The automobile was passing along the Williamstown road when the wheels skidded in the mud and caused the machine to start down a sharp declivity into a neighboring field. Seeing that a tip-over was inevitable unless he could head the auto straight down the declivity, Mr. Hoar by a dextrous movement, got the machine headed right, and away they went, making nothing of a fence or so. Attorney M. M. Gordon decided in favor of mother earth, and in attempting to connect right side with the machine, C. G. Moore thought to follow the fortunes of the machine, but did not reckon exactly, for he was soon going through space. The finish of his flight was a muck heap, none the worse except for a little wear. Mr. Hoar having the steering apparatus to cling to, remained with the auto, which was soon brought to a halt. None of the party was injured, and the machine also escaped damage. However, it was quite an exciting moment or two for the three men and for a small but appreciative crowd of spectators who saw the incident.

BURNS CLUB OPENS THE PICNIC SEASON

Had a Splendid Time at Caledonia Park on Saturday Afternoon, in Spite of the Showers.

The Burns club held its annual picnic and games at Caledonia park Saturday afternoon. Rain during the latter part of the afternoon put an end to some of the games, but while it was raining, the company enjoyed themselves with singing and dancing in the pavilion, music being furnished by George Angus' orchestra. The club members with their families made about 100 people present. Every year the Burns club holds one of the most enjoyable private picnics held at the park during the summer season, and last Saturday was no exception to the rule.

The base ball game as usual was one of the chief features of the day. The two teams were captained by James Rhea and James Elrick and Rhea's team was victorious by a score of 13 to 9. Jim Campbell, who was in the box for the losing team, had a day off and his curve were laid hard when his mound runs, J. Chesson put them over for the winning side. J. K. Anderson was the star batter of the game. One of his swipes sent the ball over the bank into the bushes, and had Jim been as good a runner as hitter it would have been a home-run instead of a three runner. The winners in the races were as follows:

Children's race—Leslie Morrison first; John McDonald, second; Roy McDonald, third.

Boys' race—Peter Alexander, first; Alex. Kesson, second; Ernest Riddle, third.

Girls' race—Lillie Beattie, first; Ruby Jones, second; Phyllis Crutcher, third.

Girls' race No. 2—Mildred McKenzie, first; Annie Rhea, second; Merle Pirie, third.

Married ladies' race—Mrs. William Scott, first; Mrs. James Booth, second; Mrs. J. J. McKenzie, third; Mrs. Charles Campbell, fourth; Mrs. William Alexander, fifth.

Young ladies' race—Florence Inglis, first; Bessie Morrison, second; Annie Anderson, third.

The committee which had charge of the arrangements for the picnic was composed of the officers of the club: James Mackay, president; James Rhea, vice president; Alex. M. Smith, treasurer; James Elrick, secretary.
